I would like to thank every Church and individual who has supported Pathway Baptist and my family in 2022. We are very excited about what God has in store here in Colorado in 2023.

With the amount of growth the town of Mead has seen over the past year, the city and police department has seen fit to establish a victim advocate program in the city. In an effort to better get a grasp of the pulse of the community and bond with the people God has called us to serve, I have volunteered to become part of this initial victim advocate program. I will have to undergo 40 hours of training to be certified which should begin some time in the next few weeks.

Included here is the press release:

Volunteer Victim Advocates work as a liaison with officers and detectives immediately after an incident to provide support services to those impacted by crime or tragedy. These support services include providing crisis intervention, emotional support, victim rights information, and referrals to other local resources which may be able to provide ongoing support and assistance.

Be at least 21 years old

Pass background check and be drug free

Required to complete a 40-hour Training Academy

Must be able to volunteer four 12-hour shifts per month

Attend monthly volunteer meeting

Have reliable transportation and phone service

One-year commitment to the program

Demonstrate compassion, empathy, and integrity

Discipleship remains one of the most important aspects of the ministry here and this coming year, we will focus more on the “doing” of ministry. We will continue the “learning” phase but it is time to put in practice what has been taught over the past few years. To that end, I have asked all the teen/young adults to take turns giving short devotionals to open Sunday services each week. They have all agreed with excitement to do it. I will be spending time each week with the person scheduled, to help them choose a topic, and effectively communicate the message of the topic in a relevant manner. I look forward to spending one on one time with each of them during and after they have been digging into God’s word! I KNOW the growth will be tremendous and am excited to see it!
