A few months back, the Mead police department announced they were starting a victim advocacy program and were looking for volunteers. The advocate position would work as a liaison between victims and the police department helping the victim connect with the many different community and faith based programs to fill their needs. The program requires an initial 40 hour training session to be certified. I applied for the position in January and completed all the necessary background checks and was accepted. Unfortunately, the training was scheduled for the week of January 30th - February 3rd. I slipped on the ice and hurt my shoulder on Jan 25th and was unable to attend the classes. I have since spoken to the department and they told me that they do not know if or when they will have a new class. They are evaluating this initial class to see the effectiveness and usefulness moving forward. If they do decide to have another class, I am first on the list.

Since Bro James Taylor and his family have moved to Longmont, him and I have met every month or so to see how we could help each other's ministry out. It has been so nice to sit and have fellowship and discuss local ministry with one another and receive encouragement in the Lord.

The Taylors have been looking for quite some time trying to find a building they can rent for their different ministries. During our recent meeting he informed me they were looking into a building on the north west side of Longmont and told me that if they ended up with this particular building, it was more space than they needed and Pathway would be welcome to use a portion of the building. We would just need to work out days and times so as to not be using it at the same time. For example, he will use the building as a base for their homeless ministry week days and then we could hold Bible study on certain nights and he would hold Bible studies on another night with his group. IF everything goes through with the building, it would be great for us because we are only 5-10 minutes from the north west side of Longmont. Mead and Longmont are right next to each other but Mead is about 1/10 the size of Longmont. Everyone from Mead has to go to Longmont for groceries, gas, shopping etc.....

Please pray as we continue to find ways to involve ourselves in the local community and show the love of Christ to those in Mead, Longmont and the surrounding areas.
