Meeting new people

As of the 15th of August, I have officially been cleared to resume normal activities. First thing I did was join a gym. I am very eager to lose some of the weight I have gained over the last 6 months while recovering from shoulder surgery. There is a gentleman I have seen almost every day at the gym and one day I struck up a conversation with him because I had seen him the previous Friday night at the HS football game. I asked him if he had kids that go to school at Mead and he said no, he is a personal trainer and some of the kids he trains play football. Come to find out I had coached most of those kids. We started talking more about him and his job (he is a state trooper) then he asked what I did. I told him I was called to this area to bring people into the kingdom of God and start a church here. He was very excited and said he had just given his life to God a few months ago and wanted to know if I hold Bible studies! I told him about our services and that I was also interested in trying to get a group of men together one day a week early morning before work for another Bible study. He said he has a few guys he has been trying to witness to who would probably be interested in something like that! We exchanged numbers last week and he said he was going to talk to them and try and get something started. Please join me in prayer for Taylor Aversano, and the other men he is witnessing to and that we can arrange a day/time to hold Bible study once a week.

Reflection on my early life and those who have made an impact

At the end of September there were two separate special occasions for people who have made a profound and lasting impact on my life. Unfortunately, they were on the same day. One in California and one in Mountain View, AR but they are intricately linked through Christ Jesus! Because I had previously made plans to attend my son's game in California I was unable to be in attendance for Bro. Joe Morell's 50 year in ministry celebration. I started attending Greenacres Missionary Baptist Church when I was 6 years old under the ministry of Bro Joe. I grew up in that church and have always thought of Bro Joe and Mrs. Jessie as my second parents. He was my pastor until he surrendered to go to the mission field in Lithuania. I even visited him several times while he lived in Lithuania. My Biblically sound, doctrinal beliefs can be directly traced back to the countless hours of sound Biblical sermons, teaching and practical every day living that I witnessed from Bro Joe. The times I spent on the foreign field with him forced me to adopt a Biblical WORLD view and look at the Gospel through the lens of the world and not just the small little town in Bossier City, Louisiana I grew up in. I will be forever and eternally grateful for the ministry and every day life of Bro Joe. While I was in California for my son's football game I was able to attend the memorial/celebration of life service for sister Sharon Stinson. What made this so special to me is the Stinsons were also part of Greenacres Missionary Baptist Church and were dear friends and church family to me growing up. I was asked to open the memorial service in prayer and say a few words about the impact Sharon had on my life. I spoke about how it was Mrs. Sharon and her Husband Jackie who were the couple that first invited my parent to come to Greencares for a visit. Jackie and my dad had been good friends in high school and he wanted to make sure to tell the family about Jesus! Through the testimony and outreach of Jackie and Sharon, my family started attending church and eventually me, my mother, and my sister were all saved under the ministry of Bro Joe. Even more awesome is that now both of my kids and my niece have all accepted Jesus. The impact of the lives of Bro Joe and Sister Sharon are still bearing fruit they could never have imagined!
