Sunday Morning 6

It's the most wonderful time of the year! It feels like we went straight from Thanksgiving to Christmas without a break. Christmas is always a busy but blessed time of year for us.

We were blessed to once again financially help out a family we chose this year who was down on their luck and simply needed to know someone cared for them!

My son's girlfriend Kaylee decided to come to Colorado and spend a few weeks with us. Lets just say it has been quite the adjustment from Laguna Beach to Colorado! She has never seen snow before or been this cold LOL. We have used this time to really get to know her and disciple her as much as we can without overwhelming her. I would like to share a God moment where he literally provided an illustration to what we had just discussed the night before. The night before in our devotion we went around the room and shared our favorite Bible verses and how they apply to our lives and can help us in the new year. My favorite verse is 1 Peter 3:15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is within you with meekness and fear. I told everyone the world needs to see you are a believer in such a way it makes an impact. We were staying in a hotel that nigh in Pueblo because my daughter had a volleyball tournament the next morning. When eating breakfast the next morning, we started out with a prayer blessing for the meal. After we finished, the kitchen worker came over to me and said she liked the fact we were "meditating" as a family before our meal. I explained to her we were not meditation, we were simply giving thanks to God our savior and asking his blessings on the meal and each of our lives for the day. She looked at me very puzzled and said, OK. I asked her if she believed in Jesus and she said yes. I asked her if that meant he was her savior and she was confused. I knew she was working and it was busy so I gave her a tract and told her to read it when she got a chance. Afterwards, I told the family about how God had just provided this object lesson from last night!

Please pray for this Lady that the tract I gave her will touch her in a way she accepts Jesus and also for Kaylee as she grows in her faith.
